FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

TWO COLLEGES TO HONOR PUBLISHING SCHOLARS

CHARLESTON, IL--Eastern Illinois University's College of Sciences and College of Arts and Humanities will host the eighth annual reception for publishing scholars Tuesday, Oct. 12 from 2:30 to 4 p.m. in the 1895 Room in the University Union.

The reception is held to honor faculty from the two colleges who have published books, articles or reviews; edited books or periodicals; or created artistic works within the past two years.

Members of the university community are invited to share in this occasion and view a sampling of works by 130 authors, editors and creative artists, which will be on display during the reception.

College of Arts and Humanities Acting Dean James Johnson said, "I am pleased that artistic works will be included along with publications from the arts and humanities faculty."

College of Sciences Dean Jon Laible said, "Faculty in our two colleges are known for their commitment to scholarly and creative activities as well as for their excellence in teaching. I join Dean Johnson in expressing pride in our faculty and am pleased that we can recognize them in this way."
